NEW LONDON STORE

Robert Shahan Accused by Two West Side Men of Stealing from Barn.

Herman Zealer, who had missed a sweater and a coat from a barn on the West Side, where he keeps his peddler's wagon, and Morris Wax, who also keeps a wagon in the barn, brought Robert Shahan, a young colored man, to police headquarters, on Wednesday morning. Zealer claimed that Shahan was wearing the coat and sweater that he had lost.

Chief George Linton questioned the accused, and in consequence Policemen Henderson, with Wax and the prisoner, went to the barn where they recovered in a second hand shop a man's suit and a woman's coat which Shahan had traded there for another suit and 50 cents in cash. Wax identified the articles as belonging to him. He had them in the barn in his wagon. Shahan was locked up and will be presented in court this morning. This is the third case of a similar character with which he has been connected.

BOSWELL AVE. EXTENSION.

Trolley Road Engineer Conferred With City Officials.

Engineer Dunham, from the Connecticut company, was here on Wednesday with plans for the trolley road extension on Boswell avenue. With Mayor Murphy, Supt. Samuel Anderson, City Engineer George E. Pitcher and Corporation Counsel Joseph T. Fanning, he went over the proposed route and it is probable that the road will be something to offer at the next meeting of the common council.

The coming of the company's engineer with plans for the extension has followed the mayor's pressing demand upon the company to give the matter more consideration than merely saying that they had it under consideration.

Nothing was said about the Maplewood extension.

Broke His Nose in Fall.

John Hendrick of Norwich Town and a man named Robinson, both said to be considerably under the influence of liquor, were ejected from the 11.45 Yantic trolley at Lincoln court Wednesday morning. NURSES OF 1912 CLASS GRADUATE

Class of Six From Backus Hospital Training School—Address by Vice President H. E. Tirrell—Prizes to Miss M. E. Moriarty, Miss F. A. Dickenson and Miss G. C. Tuitt—Three Awards Also For 1911.

In the Nurses' home at the Backus hospital, recently redecorated, the graduating exercises of the class of 1912 of the Training School for Nurses was held on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, with an attendance of about 100, including friends of the graduates and members and friends of the hospital board and of the ladies' advisory board.

The exercises were held in the decorated parlors, which were prettily decorated in the class colors, yellow and purple, and with chrysanthemums and autumn leaves. The numerals of the class in purple letters were arranged over the wide double doors, and among the flowers was a large bunch of chrysanthemums from the next senior class. The Harmony club was located in the parlor across the hall, and rendered several selections during the program.

After the opening musical selection, prayer was offered by Rev. Richard R. Graham, rector of Christ Episcopal church.

Vice President H. E. Tirrell of the board of directors, who presided, made the opening address to the graduating class of six members, who were seated at the front of the room, with the superintendent of nurses, Miss Kathleen Brown, and the assistant superintendent, Miss Ida May Egler.

Dismissing any technical knowledge of nursing, Vice President Tirrell said he should speak from the attitude of the average person towards the profession.

Almost any profession, he said, has a foundation of training, made of the experiences of the best in the past. Beyond this, for the trained nurse there is the personality, not meaning merely the physical appearance or looks of the trained nurse. One of these important points in a trained nurse is to have a quieting, soothing effect of speaking. In the nurse, the physical is the mental part, a more important part than any other. This could be shown in tactfulness, the power of doing things in the right way, that go to making the trained nurse agreeable in the household.

There is something that goes beyond the mere rules that you learn. The slight difference that seems small is what goes to make the perfect artist, and I feel that the perfect trained nurse is the result of her profession.

If you feel your training here is only a foundation and you are going on to more complete fitness and progress, then you are surely bound for advancement and a high place in your profession.

Mr. Tirrell's brief address was followed by a selection by the orchestra.

Presented Diplomas.

Class Pins Given.

The presentation of the class pins was made by Mrs. Charles L. Hubbard of the ladies' advisory board with a light expression of the significance attaching to the work, to which the nurses were to devote their lives. With each pin was given a beautiful bouquet of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

The award of the prizes was announced by Dr. Patrick Cassidy, who spoke impressively to the class. He counseled them to fidelity to their cause, to a cheerful and blisful composure and to an undimmed faith in the presence and goodness of God, promising them for duty well performed a name by the side of the Good Samaritan.

Life concluded by announcing the award of prizes as follows: For surgical work, $10, contributed by Mrs. C. L. Hubbard, to Miss Mary Elizabeth Moriarty; for medical work, $5, contributed by Mrs. H. H. Osgood, to Miss Florence A. Dickinson; for general hospital work, $10, contributed by the hospital to Miss Gertrude C. Tuitt.

He also announced the award of similar prizes for last year as follows: Surgical work, Miss Joseph Brock of this city; medical work, Miss Elizabeth Roche of Westerly; general hospital work, Miss Ida May Egler of Hanover, who is now assistant matron at the hospital.

Class of 1912.

The graduates of 1912 are Miss Florence A. Dickinson of Lowell, Mass., Miss Viola Mathewson of Rockville, Miss Mary Elizabeth Moriarty of Pawtucket, Miss Fay D. Russell of Hartford, Miss Elizabeth Margaret Ashley of New Britain, Miss Gertrude C. Tuitt of Waterbury.

The class motto is "Conscientiousness."

Another selection by the orchestra concluded the formal programme. Dancing was enjoyed afterwards and refreshments were served.

The Backus hospital training school for nurses is one that has already had a wide reputation and is yearly adding to it by the quality of the work that its graduates do, so that those about to enter the profession are coming to it from all parts of New England, and also from Canada. The class of 1912 is one of the largest graduated. The hospital is now employing more nurses on its staff than ever before.

HEARD OF THE GAME THROUGH BULLETIN MEGAPHONE

Norwich Baseball Fans Were on Edge Through Wednesday's Battle.

The largest and most enthusiastic crowd of the world's series season was gathered before The Bulletin office on Wednesday evening to hear the results of the deciding clash between the Red Sox and the Giants, as announced by megaphone by Perry H. Corning. Each sensational play was greeted with vociferous applause without prejudice to New York or Boston. A run was the signal for a remarkable demonstration such as is produced only by the ardent fan who cannot see the greatest game of the year, but does the next best thing and makes up for his loss with expressions of appreciation of the fine work of the players. With the flash "Boston wins" the crowd melted, some to spring the old "I told you so," on every New York backer they met, and the others to grin and bear it as best they might.

JOHN KINNEY CELEBRATED.

With George Horoux He Burned Red Fire Over Boston's Victory.

For the benefit of the disappointed New York fans, John Kinney, an ardent Red Sox supporter, accompanied by George Horoux, spent the evening of Wednesday evening in celebrating the victory of the Boston team by burning red fire in the vicinity of the business places of the most noted Giants supporters. The mile square square came in for its share of the illumination, while the Smoke Shop, noted as the headquarters of New York fans, was one of the first places to be visited by the red fire. The Franklin square lunch cart also a great rendezvous of the Giant supporters, was colored a glaring red for some time. Other places reputed to be of Giant complexion were visited before the supply of Boston red was consumed. It is said by those well up on the game that John Kinney never makes a mistake in picking a winner!

REPUBLICAN HEADQUARTERS.

Fixed Up in Attractive Form—Plans for Rally Talked Of.

Republican headquarters which have been opened in the McNamara building in Shetucket street, are now fixed up in attractive form and are daily in charge of George W. Rouse. Pictures of President Taft and of the party gubernatorial candidate, John F. Stedley, adorn the walls, several large electric chandeliers have been put in by the Eaton Chase company and eight small tables with a supply of chairs have been supplied by N. S. Gilbert & Sons.

The party town committee is now talking of a rally to be held here soon when Congressional Candidate William A. King of Willimantic and Representative Chandler of Rocky Hill will be the speakers.

Helping Hands' Supper.

The first regular supper of the season given by the Helping Hands was held at the Spiritual academy on Park street Wednesday evening. In pursuance of its name, "Well Red" supper, the tables were decorated with red dahlias and geraniums and trimmed with red crepe, and the ladies wore red aprons, caps and ties. The menu consisted of baked beans, pickles, cabbage salad, brown bread, rolls, cake, tea and coffee, and the large number in attendance did full justice to the good things provided.

After the supper plans were made to hold sewing circles at the homes of the members each Tuesday afternoon in preparation for the annual fair to be held in November, and it was voted to hold suppers on the first and third Wednesdays of each month.

Surprise Birthday Party.

A party of about thirty young friends gave Miss Ethel Stoddard a pleasant surprise at her home in the Marguerite building Tuesday evening. The evening was passed in an enjoyable way with games and vocal and instrumental selections, and dainty refreshments were served. Miss Stoddard received many pretty remembrances from her friends.

ELKS ARE PLANNING FOR A HARVEST SUPPER.

Good Old Fashioned Feed to Be Given at Their Home Next Week.

One week from Saturday night the Elks are going to have a feed that they will remember for some time. A committee composed of Casper K. Bailey, Perry H. Corning and Charles Tracy are doing all in their power to make this "harvest" supper one good time. Everything is going along smoothly and any Elk who misses it will be sorry when he hears of it the next day. Steward "Jack" McCormick is getting the home in shape for the affair, and it is hoped a large attendance will be there to enjoy the good time in general that awaits them.

DEMOCRATIC SPEAKERS AT COLCHESTER AND BOZRAH

Party of Five Addressed Crowds in Two Places Wednesday Evening.

Democratic rallies were held in Colchester and Bozrah Wednesday night by a party of speakers who traveled in automobiles and included Judge Horne of New York, Edward Butler of Hartford, Albert Phillips of Stamford, candidate for secretary of state, Frederick A. Johnson of Montville, candidate for senator in the 29th district, and Dr. J. J. Donohue, state central committee.

They had good sized audiences at both places. The first rally was at Colchester. At Bozrah the party enjoyed an oyster supper, which was a welcome feature after a cool ride from Colchester.

FISHING AND EATING.

Pastimes of Mainland Men During Outing at Idyl-Wyl, Greenport.

The Suffolk County Weekly Times, published Saturday at Greenport, L. I., said:

A few of New London's prominent business men came across Wednesday to enjoy a week's fishing and recreation at Idyl-Wyl, the bungalow of A. E. Garde, at Sunnyside. They have been having visions of fish served in every style for weeks past, and consequently have brought with them a first class chef, and when not catching fish, expect to eat and eat. For fear some may not be able to endure such dissipation, they have with them a reliable physician who will see to it that each one gets back to New London in good condition. The merry party consists of Walter E. Canfield, principal of the New London and Norwich Business colleges, Benjamin Getchell, Dr. J. H. Allen of Norwich, Christopher G. H. Berry, Frank A. Comstock of New London and Andrew E. Garde of Cromwell, Conn.

OBITUARY.

Thomas J. McKenna

After an illness of several months with Bright's disease, Thomas J. McKenna passed away at 11.30 o'clock Wednesday morning. He was seized with the attack in June and since the first of July has been unable to work. Mr. McKenna is survived by a brother, Frank, of Springfield, and one daughter, Angeline, besides his wife, who was Miss Danvers. He was a member of the Foresters of America, Court Sachem, No. 34. At one time Mr. McKenna was employed as a hostler by Willis Austin and C. K. Bailey, and was recently in the employ of Undertaker Charles A. Gager, Jr. The deceased had many friends, made by his pleasing manner, kind traits and genial disposition. He was a faithful workman and a loyal friend whose death will be deeply regretted by a large number.

Have All Gone

Face a Sight, But in a Short Time Stuart's Calcium Wafers Worked Wonders.

Many an otherwise pretty girl is distracted with her appearance. Poor girl! She doesn't yet know that Stuart's Calcium Wafers will quickly transform her into a perfect dream of loveliness. And many a young man with tender skin just growing a brightly bearded is also a sight to behold. All the face creams in the world are nothing but masks. They do not overcome pimples, but merely allay surface irritation.

Skin-health must come from within. Skin-tissue is made from the blood, and as it is a tendency of nature to throw off a good share of impurities through the skin, naturally impurities gather on the surface in the form of pimples, blotches, blackheads and other eruptions. But Stuart's Calcium Wafers have a remarkable activity in the blood which seeks the skin as an outlet for its impurities. These are thrown off in invisible mist of gas, are consumed in the oxygen of the air, and in a few days all imperfections of circulation and of skin-health are overcome.

All blemishes disappear and the skin becomes as clear and smooth as a baby's. Go to the drug store today—any druggist can supply them—and get a box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers for trial. They will cost you only 50 cents but are really worth many dollars to you if your face is marred by ugly pimples, blotches, blackheads, etc. Convince yourself by actual test that Stuart's Calcium Wafers are the most effective blood and skin purifiers in the world.

Cruttenden is deputy dairy and food commissioner of the state, and a popular young man here.
